TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. Ernest Hackbush spent the week-end of June 22d last, in his home town of Hamilton.

Mrs. W. W. Scott has returned home from a very pleasant visit to her parents in Wellandport and other relatives around that part.

While Mr. H. W. Roberts was in Wyoming and Sarnia over the week-end of June 15th, Mrs. Roberts went out to see her aged parents in Purpleville in the meantime. Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McGillivray were also out at that place to honor Dad on "Father's Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gladow, of Hamilton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goodall, on June 16th, and Mr. Gladow had charge of our service that afternoon. He spoke from the subject, "There is but one God," and handled his address in a masterly and convincing manner that was much appreciated. Mr. Gladow is one of our young men now rising to the fore. Miss Pearl Hermon added lustre by reciting, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

The Belleville school closed on June 18th, and the young scholars are home again, glad in the solace of mother's arms and home.

Mrs. John Buchan and little son left for the former's parental home near Tiverton for a month's sojourn on June 19th. We wish them a happy and restful vacation.

When Victor Egginton came home from the Belleville school on June 18th, he found his parents in a strange home, for they had just previously moved from Athletic Avenue, south of Gerard to Hogarth Avenue, near Broadview and Danforth Avenues, and like their new home.

Messrs. J. T. Shilton, Charles L. McLaughlin, Silas Baskerville, George Hunter and Fred Brown motored up to Flint, Mich., to attend the closing sessions of the Michigan Association of the Deaf, in the middle of June, which marked the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Flint School for the Deaf. The bunch rode up in Messrs. McLaughlin and Hunter's cars, and report having had a swell time, and met many of their old friends and made new ones.

On Saturday, June 15th, Mr. and Mrs. George Brethour, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Whealy, her son, Gordon, his wife and babe, motored down to Frankford to Mrs. Whealy's parental home, where they spent the day. Here they left Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Whealy and babe for a couple of weeks with their grandparents, while the other three proceeded on to Shan-nonville, where they visited Mrs. Brethour's relatives before returning home Sunday evening.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. J. T. Shilton, who underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils recently, is so much better and benefited. All four of the Shilton children are very smart for their age and expert in the sign-language.

This city can boast of at least fifty-five deaf of all ages who own homes of their own, which is a credit to the deaf as a whole, while there are over a dozen here who possess cars. Among our friends here, the home takes first consideration.

Miss Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, came across the lake by boat to spend the week-end of June 22d, at "Mora Glen," and with other friends. Mr. and Mrs. N. A. McGillivray gave a tea party in her honor Saturday evening.

Remember the Bridgen Literary Society's outing to Scarborough Park, on July 13th. Our annual picnic on July 20th, and the Frats "Annual" at Centre Island on August 5th.

The members of the Girls' Progressive Club will not soon forget June 15th, for on that day they were royally treated to an outing to Newtonbrook, a few miles beyond the city up Yonge Street, by Miss Bertha Bridgen, daughter of our lamented Superintendent. A great time was spent in outdoor recreation and a hearty luncheon was served. Miss Bridgen is still taking a warm interest in the deaf and she was warmly thanked by all for her goodness and thoughtfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawley ushered in their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on June 22d last, and we hope they may reach the fiftieth one. Mrs. Crawley was formerly Miss Lily Cummings, of Goderich, who worked in London and Hamilton before her marriage. Mr. Crawley has steady work with the Swansea Bolt works, and they have one son, Donald Bridgen Crawley. Their comfortable home on Garden Avenue, is ample proof of their thriftiness and care.

BEAUTIFUL BOND LAKE

What a great time had those who took in the Bridgen Literary Society annual picnic to Bond Lake on June 1st. In fact, it was one of the jolliest outings they had enjoyed in a long time. Every one proclaimed it a perfect day's outing and everything was reeled off in perfect style. Many said the trip in the "Special" was worth the price, and indeed it was a rare treat.

They all had a jolly ride, a jolly crowd and a jolly time. The entire deaf population of Aurora came down to join in the fun, and were sorry when it was all over.

The conductor and motorman were "our boys" for the time being, for they entered into the spirit of the day with joyful abandon.

In one of the ball games, Mrs. Doyle and Miss Alma Brown collided at third base and in a moment were reeling over each other in a tangled knot.

President Frank E. Harris and Secretary-Treasurer Ernest Hackbush and their assistants were a very busy body, and are to be congratulated on the success and enjoyment of this outing.

Although the crowd was made up proportionately of old and young, there was no sign of an age line throughout the afternoon, for the older ones had the edge of their younger compatriots and made the latter step lively in all the games.

Some of those who had never seen beautiful Bond Lake before were so charmed when they saw it that they exclaimed "How beautiful and enchanting," especially Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walker and Ernie Hackbush.

When at school years ago, Mr. Samuel Averall was some baseball player, and today he is still an exponent of the diamond, if his playing in these games can be taken as a criterion. How he did wallop that pellet, which he would send to all corners of the far pasture, no matter how it was pitched to him, and seemed to have the pitcher so somnolent on the hill top. Mr. F. A. West, of Aurora, gave all a surprise. In the first game he played like a sand-lot urchin, but in the second game, he pounded out base hits in multiplied numbers, despite good pitching, and so consistent was it that many thought he had consulted an oculist in the interim.

STRATHROY SIGNALS

Mrs. Arthur White and her daughter, Miss Julia White, were agreeably surprised yet pleased to receive a pleasant visit from Mr. W. A. Wark and daughter, Jean, of Wyoming, and H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, on June 15th. Afterwards, Mrs. White accompanied them back to the Wark homestead and then to the Roberts meeting in Sarnia next day. She visited at the Warks for a few days.

Many of those who were at school in Belleville with her years ago, will be pleased to know that Miss Minnie Mason is still in good spirits and living in a fine home with her folks in this town, but seldom associates with the deaf. Her beautiful home is just across the street from the Whites' residence.

Miss Julia White, the talented daughter of Mrs. Arthur White, whose father recently passed on to the great majority, is clerking in the Strathroy Creamery. Though not deaf, she is so well versed in the sign-language as to be mistaken for one of our own. She is a smiling young maiden and immensely popular among all her friends, who number into legions. Her late father was known far and wide and highly esteemed.

ST. THOMAS SIFTINGS

Glad to report that Mr. George Munro, who has been very ill with summer influenza at the Memorial Hospital, is a lot improved and able to leave that institution. He is cheerful, but greatly misses his late beloved wife.

We gladly welcome back Miss Reta Windrim from her pleasant visit with relatives in London.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fishbein and children, of London, were visitors to this city, one Sunday recently.

Mr. Charles A. Elliott, of Toronto, was up to this city, to conduct the service here on June 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul, and gave a splendid sermon. Before the service, Mr. W. J. Smalldon motored Mr. Elliott, of Toronto, and Messrs. David Dark and W. H. Gould, Jr., of London, to the Memorial Service to see our friend, Mr. George R. Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smalldon and daughter, Mariam, arrived home safely late Sunday evening, June 16th, from their long auto trip to Sarnia, where they went to attend the Roberts meeting.

WYOMING WAVERS

Mrs. William Wark has returned home from a week's very pleasant visit with Mrs. Arthur White in Strathroy.

Mr. H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wark on June 15th, and accompanied the family to the meeting in Sarnia next day.

On Saturday evening, June 15th, Mr. Eric Wark, accompanied by his father, his sister, Miss Jean Wark and H. W. Roberts, motored out to Petrolea, with the intention of notifying Miss Edith Squires of the meeting in Sarnia next day, but found, on arrival at the Squires home that the "bird," had flown to the "Tunnel City" to remain with relatives until the meeting next day, having learned of it through the JOURNAL.

After the Roberts meeting in Sarnia, on June 16th, Miss Edith Squires returned with the Wark family and remained here until her brother came and took her home to Petrolea.

SARNIA SAYINGS

Mr. Stephen Baines, who is now enjoying his eventide within the sheltering roof of the aged people's home, just beyond this city, and who walks about with feeble step, was very kindly brought to the Roberts meeting on June 16th, by friends he had benefited in years gone by.

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson had quite a houseful of their deaf friends on June 16th. In this smiling bunch were Mrs. Arthur White, of Strathroy; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wark and Miss Jean Wark, of Wyoming; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smalldon, of St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., of London; Mr. and Mrs. William Riberdy, Mrs. G. Matney and Mr. Wilbur Elliott, all from Detroit, and H. W. Roberts, of Toronto. Afterwards all went in three carloads to the Roberts meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, of Dresden, motored up for the Roberts service and afterwards visited the latter's parents, and had Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., of London, as guests for tea that Sunday.

Miss Edith Squires, of Petrolea, was visiting relatives here over the week-end of June 15th, and took in the Roberts service.

All were so delighted to meet Mrs. Glen Matney here on June 16th. She came from Detroit with the Riberdy's and is a charming and pleasing conversationalist, with an ecstasy of youth and mirth. This was her first visit to Sarnia and we hope she will come again.

After the Roberts meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson invited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smalldon, Mrs. Adolph Kresin and H. W. Roberts in for tea, and they formed a pleasant group.

Mr. H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, took charge of our service on June 16th, and in his sermon paid a glowing and worthy tribute to the late Mr. Arthur White, who passed away in Strathroy a few weeks previous, and stressed upon all to prepare for the Bugle Call. The crowd present was the largest of the season, including Mr. and Mrs. William Riberdy, Mrs. Glen Matney and Wilbur Elliott, of Detroit.

PORT HURON PICK-UPS

Mr. Ike B. Ries, of Dallas, Texas, visited the Kresin family for a few days before and after the Flint convention.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eickhoff, of Flint, were guests of the Kresin family over Decoration Day. They are always welcomed.

Mrs. Kresin went over to Sarnia, on June 16th, to attend the Roberts service, and enjoyed having tea at the Hendersons.

Mrs. A. Kresin was in Toledo, O., for ten days lately, having been summoned to the bedside of a dying sister. Despite the best care, her sister passed away after a short illness.

LONDON LEAVES

Mrs. David Dark and her daughter, Mrs. Lightfoot, came down from Detroit, on June 18th, and we were so pleased to see Mrs. Dark looking so well physically.

Miss Reta Windrim returned to St. Thomas, on June 9th, after spending a week with her two married sisters in this city.

On Sunday, June 16th, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smalldon and daughter, Mariam, of St. Thomas motored up here in their classy new car, and picking up Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., continued on to Sarnia to attend the Roberts meeting. They returned home safely that evening.

Mr. Moses Summers, who works for Mr. Thomas A. Middleton, near Horning Mills, arrived in this city, on June 15th, and was met by his father, who took him to his old home at Muncney, where Moses spent his two weeks holidays. He looks fat and stylishly dressed.

Mr. A. H. Cowan had charge of our service here on June 16th, and delivered a very helpful and interesting sermon to those present.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Two subscriptions go in this week. Many of our old timers will be pleased to know that their old schoolmate, Mr. A. J. Stephen, who left the Belleville school about forty years ago, is now living in Riversdale, near Walkerton and doing very well. He was formerly a busy carpenter, but now is "handy man," for the village repairs and is in comfortable circumstances. He would like to meet his old pals again.

The deaf of Waterloo include Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Martin, Miss Kate Fenner and Mr. George Herons, while its twin city of Kitchener boasts of Mr. and Mrs. N. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Golds, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hagen, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Williams, Messrs. Allan Nahgang and J. Schuell, Misses M. Gertung and Viola Johnston.

ORDINATION SERVICES

EDITOR JOURNAL: Will you please accept this personal comment from me, which I think is a just and well-earned tribute to all those who participated in the ordination services that were conducted here Sunday, June 23d, 1929.

Since the establishment of Ephpheta Episcopal Mission for the Deaf in Detroit, Mich., by the late Rev. Austin Ward Mann, in 1877, the Mission has never witnessed a finer and more impressive ceremony. Mr. Waters is the first deaf man to be ordained to the Diaconate in Michigan. The Chapel of St. John's was crowded with deaf people, and many hearing persons were present. Following the ordination, Bishop Page confirmed a large class of candidates—six deaf persons and six hearing persons. The visiting deaf clergymen, who came to witness the ordination of Mr. Waters, added much to the beauty of the ceremony.

The writer was particularly pleased to meet some of the deaf clergy, whom she has known for many years, especially Rev. Oliver J. Whildin, of Baltimore, and the Rev. H. C. Merrill, of Syracuse, N. Y. Others of the clergy who came were Rev. J. M. Koehler, Rev. Mr. Braddock, of New York City; Rev. Mr. Light, of Boston, Mass.; Rev. Mr. Flick, of Chicago; Rev. Mr. Sawhill, of Cleveland; and Rev. Mr. Smielau, who has charge of our Mission.

The reception tendered to the clergy by the Guild ladies also added much to the pleasure and enjoyment of the visitors. We sincerely trust Rev. Mr. Waters will dignify his new life's calling, and may he eventually work his way into the rank of the priesthood of the Episcopal Diocese. We were pleased to meet and form the acquaintance of Rev. J. M. Koehler, of Olyphant, Pa.; Rev. Mr. Braddock, New York City, and Rev. Mr. Light, of Boston, Mass.

Koehler and Shanovsky are old acquaintances, which started a few years ago on the former's farm in northeastern Pennsylvania. The young man, before his departure for Detroit, got many a trip to the minister's farm, which is not far from Shanovsky's home in Scranton. Upon his arrival here, Saturday, June 22d, Rev. Some people stir their coffee as though they were mixing a cake.

We can't make up for bad judgment by hustling.

OMAHA

Graduation exercises of the Nebraska school were held Thursday evening, July 13th. The auditorium was packed to capacity. Rev. A. B. Vanderlippe opened the program with an invocation. Edward John Maier gave the salutatory, orally. A Chinese and Japanese drill dance was given by two girls, and the Misses Paxson and Christofferson exhibited rhythm work by small children. Awards were presented to the athletic teams by Coach Nick Peterson. Supt. F. W. Booth commended the teams and spoke highly of Mr. Petersen and his work. Presentation of prizes for good conduct was also featured. Florence Laverne Howsden, of Alma, Neb., gave the valedictory, which was read by Mr. Murphy. The address to the graduates by Supt. O. L. McIntire, of the Iowa School for the Deaf, was one of the best in several years. He spoke of airplanes, autos, the radio, etc. Supt. Booth then read the names of each graduate orally, and as each responded by reading the lips, he received his diploma. Under the direction of Mr. Murphy, the class spoke the Lord's Prayer. The graduates received many beautiful flowers. Among the visitors from out of town was Mr. Harvey Welty, a teacher in the Colorado school the past two years and formerly a teacher at the Nebraska School for the Deaf, and also Superintendent of the South Dakota school. We have a hunch that he will be at the Nebraska school next fall. One of the graduates, Irene Applegate, was married to Harold Barnes at 3:45 p.m., on graduation day, but it was a secret till after the graduation exercises were over.

The annual picnic of Omaha Division, No. 32, N. F. S. D., was held at the Nebraska school grounds on Saturday, June 15th, and an unusually small crowd turned out. However, quite a neat sum was realized from the sale of refreshments and lunch boxes. Scott Cusaden auctioned off the well-filled boxes, there being an even dozen, and the smallest sum paid was $1.25. Edmond Berney was the highest bidder ($3.70) for the most original box, given by Mrs. Jas. R. Jelinek. It was covered with a large wedding cake and was quite a novelty. Mrs. Arthur G. Nelson won the prize for the most beautiful box. A game of indoor baseball was enjoyed, captained by Nick Petersen and George Revers. The former's team won, 9 to 5. It was a rather comical game. No one obeyed the Umpire Rev. Rutherford. Each had his own rules, and the winning team called it finish when Captain Revers' team started changing players.

There was a tug-of-war between married men and singles, and the latter won. The married women easily beat the single women at the same game. The losers of both teams had to treat the winners to pop or ice-cream. Mrs. A. J. Netusil won the slipper-kicking contest. Out-of-town visitors were Rev. H. Rutherford, of Chicago; C. Jewitt, St. Joe, Mo.; Harvey Miles, Duff, Neb.; and F. Schupbach, of Columbus, Neb.

George Revers is now working at the Omaha Printing Co., with Abe Rosenblatt. Harvey Miles was unable to find work here, so left for his home in Duff, Thursday the 27th.

On the 17th, bright and early Nick Petersen drove to Faribault, Minn., to attend the teachers' convention. He took along Mrs. Ota C. Blankenship and four of her pupils, who exhibited school work there. Mr. and Mrs. Netusil took Mrs. Oscar Treuke and Charles J. Falk. Others attending were Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Anderson and Messrs. Tom L. Anderson, Eugene McConnell, Francis Jacobsen, Ray Anderson and John J. Marty. Mrs. Netusil spent two weeks in Mason City, Ia., as the guest of her old school chum, Miss Thelma Stock.

Dr. J. Schuyler Long came home from Ohio, and the Minnesota convention and has gone via rail to Berkeley, Cal., to visit his daughter and son-in-law, the Elwood Stevensons and their three children. He and Mrs. Long will spend most of the summer at Berkeley and Long Beach with relatives.

THAT children of deaf parentage are very often remarkable during their school course is familiar knowledge to the deaf, and it seems the theories of eugenics, in so far as they concern the deaf, are invariably shattered.

Recently the daily newspapers have been featuring Harlow Rothert for his wonderful feat in shot-putting. At the Philadelphia meet of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association he was the star of the defending champions representing his college—Stanford University. He broke all previous records by tossing the shot fifty feet and three inches. In hurling the discus he was also one of the stars.

His father, Waldo H. Rothert, is a graduate of Gallaudet College in the Class of '98. His mother was also a Co-ed at Gallaudet—Miss Florence Phelps.

Twenty-two of the greatest colleges in America had their best athletes in the competition, but Stanford made far and away the highest number of points in scoring the victory. Harlow Rothert is captain of the basketball team of his college, and the newspapers say he will be a star full-back on next football team. He is declared a model athlete, not only a weight champion, but also a wonder on the basketball court and the gridiron.

AFTER serving the Michigan deaf of the Protestant-Episcopal denomination as lay reader for several years, Horace B. Waters was ordained to the diaconate by the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, Bishop of Michigan. The candidate was presented by Rev. Dr. R. W. Woodroffe, rector of St. John's Church, where the ceremony took place on Sunday morning, June 23d.

Mr. Waters had been conducting religious services for the deaf every week, as Rev. Mr. Smielau has such a large field that he can visit Detroit only once a month, when he administers communion to the congregation. Rev. Mr. Waters will probably be admitted to the priesthood in a year or less. He is very intelligent and possesses a good education, being a graduate of the Class of 1902, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. By temperament and inclination, he is well fitted for religious work among the deaf of Michigan, and his advancement will help lighten the heavy burden that has been unconspicuously borne by Rev. Franklin C. Smielau.

THE graduates recently celebrated the 150th Anniversary of the founding of the Vienna Institution, which was established through the influence and philanthropy of Abbe de l'Epee. The JOURNAL editor acknowledges with thanks the card of greeting signed and sent by several deaf-mute friends of Austria.

The Capital City

Washington Division, No. 46, N. F. S. D., has selected July 20th as the day of their picnic by ex-cursing to Marshall Hall. The committee on arrangements, of which Roy J. Stewart is chairman, is planning a good time for you all. Come and get into full swing, seek health and happiness on the beach of Marshall Hall, the finest to be found. Plenty of amusements await you there. A game of baseball will be played between the Rose boys and Scott boys. Come and see them.

During July and August there will be no Sunday service at both St. Mark's and Calvary Baptist.

Misses Evelyn Townsend, of Baltimore, Md., and Maurice Kleindient, of Washington, D. C., were married June 22d, at Christ Methodist Church in Baltimore, Md. Rev. L. B. Moylan officiated. Congratulations.

Mrs. Jean Edington is still employed with the government, having been given a permanent position, the recommendation being made by President Hoover.

Misses Lucile Hillinger and Ethel Culperwell were dinner guests of Mrs. Roy J. Stewart, Wednesday, June 26th. The young ladies are pupils of Kendall Green School.

SEATTLE

To help the fund for the convention Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram opened their house last night. More people than were looked for came, but the Bertrams managed everything finely. "500" was played and fruit salad, baked beans, hot Parkerhouse rolls, and coffee were served by the hostess and assisted by her daughter, Marion, and Miss Marguerite Gorman.

Jim O'Leary, of Spokane, on his way to the Canadian convention in Vancouver stopped over a couple days in Seattle at the Reeves apartment. He told of an exciting incident on the Great Northern train. He was preparing to retire to his berth, where his bill book slipped to the floor. He noticed a hand slip under the curtain, then missing the purse; he gave chase to the stranger disappearing into another car. Grabbing him, he pulled out his purse from the thief's pocket. There, sure, was some excitement for a while. Not wishing to be put to any inconvenience he told the Pullman conductor to let the culprit go.

Mrs. Jim O'Leary was in Seattle one night last week, the guest of the Reeves, on her way to Victoria, B. C., as a delegate for the Moose Lodge.

There were about thirty at the strawberry social at the Lutheran Hall for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid. Cards and games were played. Mrs. W. S. Root was the chairman.

There have been three parties this month at the homes of Mrs. A. K. Waugh, Mrs. Sallie Clark and Mrs. Claire Reeves. Plenty of refreshments were served at each home and everybody had a lovely time.

On the evening of Decoration Day, W. S. Root was the manager at the Thursday social, and the winners of a string of pearl beads, tie, bathing cap and arm bands were Mrs. Claire Reeves, Pete Pederson, Mrs. A. Waugh and Rev. G. W. Gaertner. There were six tables of whist and everybody was in a genial mood.

The next week Mrs. Reeves was the manager when John Adams won a pair of socks, Mrs. Jack Bertram salt and pepper shakers, Mrs. J. Brinkman a plate and A. H. Koberstein, a big stick of candy.

In turn Mr. Adams presented Geo. Gilmore, a sun visor; Mrs. Victoria Smith, a jar of hard candy; Mrs. Adams, a pickle dish and Mr. Koberstein, a pencil.

Mrs. W. S. Root was a passenger on the excursion train to Spokane for Decoration Day, and visited with her son, Walter, whom she found was taller, stronger and tanned. She spent two nights with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sackville-West. The first night of her arrival a little party was tendered in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Spieler took three days' vacation driving to Port Angeles, and to the Ocean Beaches, in their new Chevrolet coupe.

Mrs. Bert Haire and daughter, Dora, visited a few days in Tacoma at the home of Mrs. Burgett. A few days after their return home they went to Anacortes to see Mrs. Henrich.

August Kowald, a resident of Renton for two years, has returned to his old home in Rochester, New York.

Mrs. Claude Ziegler, son, Herbert, and Milo Root, rode in the Wrights' car to Snoqualmie Falls three weeks ago, and enjoyed the beautiful view of the falls. There were thousands of autos, so we had to park the car half a mile away. Claude Ziegler works at the big Weyerhaeuser mill.

When the public schools closed Mrs. Nancy Belser took her little girl, Shirley, to the Dallas, Ore., where she will spend her vacation with an aunt. Mrs. Belser enjoyed her visit with her four sisters for a few days before returning home. She is living in a cute cottage on Twenty-eighth Avenue. Her six-year-old son, Harold, will stay in Seattle.

STAMPED WITH THE MAVERICK

By Troy E. Hill

Well, folks, here comes the Longhorn Maverick again, with a little news from out of the great Southwest, where men are men, and women once were governesses.

I note in the Buff and Blue, where Ohio has passed the deadline for her quota, and still going strong. Stay in there, Miss Lamson, and pitch. Long may Ohio's brave band stand. All of which leads me to ask, where art thou, Lou. Lou's the State Agent in each of the States that have yet to cross the finish line. Come on now and let's all sing, "On the old Ohio, where the shy little violets grow." In this case though, the violet was not a bit shy.

Another article in the Buff and Blue, wherein our friend Mr. Buchanan, principal of the Texas School for the Deaf, was awarded an honorary M.A. degree, after which I understand he is attending the Convention of Instructors at Faribault, Minn. Mr. Buchanan is an able instructor of the deaf, and the deaf of Texas, as well as those of other States, wish him continual success in his chosen field.

Mr. Golden, Gallaudet '27, teacher in the Maryland School for the Deaf, at Frederick, Md., stopped off in the City of the Hour, on his way home to Post, Texas, one day about the 18th of June. My impressions of Brother Golden are that he is a square shooter, and should develop into a great teacher of the deaf, if held along the right track. I understand Mr. Golden is a graduate of the Alabama school, and while in Dallas, he enjoyed a short visit with our Mr. and Mrs. John Sheppard and Tom Sheppard, all former students of the Alabama school.

Shortly after Mr. Golden left, who should hit this burg, but Grover A. Morgan, and wife, and son, George, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are both connected with educational work among the deaf of Alabama, Grover being instructor in the shoe department of the Alabama school, and Mrs. Morgan, who was Mabel McDaniel, Gallaudet ex-'22, is a teacher at the Colored School for the Deaf. Before going to the Alabama school, Grover, who was a former schoolmate of the Maverick, passed the Civil Service examination, and slaved in Washington for the War Department during the World War; later was transferred to Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, and later worked in a shoe shop at Waco, Texas; was billing clerk for Dreyfus & Son, one of Dallas' leading men's stores, and finally hooked up with the Oklahoma school, from which place he was drafted by the Alabama school as instructor in shoe repairing. The Longhorn folks were all tickled to see Grover and the Mrs. and also the youngster, and wish them all the best of that which is coming. Grover is the first of Texas deaf people to reach Texas on their way to the convention, to be held in Fort Worth, July 3d, 4th and 5th.

Sunday, July 23d, Hon. S. Robey Burns, athletic director of the Illinois School for the Deaf, stopped off in Dallas for a few hours, but unlucky for the Maverick, he was home taking an afternoon seista, when Robey dropped into the burg, and since Robey had pressing business elsewhere, he was not able to remain over night. We regret exceedingly being unable to meet the genial Robey, who is, by the way, a classmate of Bro. Gibson, our Frat President, being a member of the Class of 1918. Next time, Robey, try and stop off over night. You'll always find the door latch on the Hill shack hanging outside the door.

Now that the Silent Worker is no more, and the Hawkeye, according to Bro. Tom Anderson's final editorial, will devote more of its space to the deaf of Iowa, it looks like the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL is to come into its own as the foremost magazine of the deaf world. Here's hoping the deaf will give Bro. Hodgson their whole-hearted support, and help him make the JOURNAL a bigger and better paper. Had we the money, we would like to start an independent magazine for the deaf, but finance is quite conspicuous by its absence from within our reach, so the deaf will have to be content with the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

From advance information, it looks as if the Fort Worth convention is going to be the liveliest convention up to date of the Texas Association, and I'll be seeing you there; so come along, folks.

OHIO

Friends of Mr. Kreigh B. Ayers, of Akron, were sorry to learn that his father passed away at his home in Cleveland, June 19th. From what we have learned death came suddenly and Kreigh was hastily summoned to Cleveland. We well remember the elder Mr. Ayers' visits to our school while Kreigh was a student here. Mr. Kreigh as president of the Alumni Association has been very active in the interests of the deaf in the State and all express deep sympathy for him in the loss of his father.

Mr. A. B. Greener, according to a telegram received by his daughter Mr. Thomas, arrived safely in California, after attending the convention at Faribault, Minn. While at the convention, he was pleased to meet Mr. Osborn, the deaf man who planned and built the large barn at the Ohio Home many years ago. The barn still stands, to show how well Mr. Osborn could build in days gone by.

According to news item in the Columbus papers, a deaf man named William Griffith, of Cleveland, was probably fatally injured when his car was struck, June 23d, at Lakewood by a Nickel Plate freight train.

Mr. Fred Schwartz, of Columbus, has purchased a home for his family at 822 Vernon Road, Bexley, one of Columbus' most aristocratic suburbs. Now Mr. Schwartz is holding his head higher as he travels the same roads to and from his business that millionaires do. Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz's younger daughter has been teaching in Florida and their older one is married.

The Board of Women visitors to the Ohio Home met with Mrs. Thomas June 26th, to review the year's work and talk over plans for bettering the Home. The monthly birthday parties inaugurated last November will be continued. The board members will visit the Home June 28th, on an inspection tour. The members are Mrs. R. P. Thomas, Mrs. Minnie Y. Schory, Mrs. Clarence Charles, Mrs. Jos. Neutzing and Misses MacGregor and Edgar.

The last number of the Ohio Chronicle has this to say editorially about the retirement of its associate editor, Mr. A. B. Greener:

He will be greatly missed by the readers of the Chronicle, but all will wish him an abundance of pleasure wherever he may be. He has remained at work because he loves to work, not because he needed the money. He has remained to serve the readers of the Chronicle because he likes to serve. He feels, however, that younger eyes could bear the burden of preparing copy and reading proofs better than he. He loves his friends and wishes to spend his time as much as possible with them.

Not many men have the fine personality that Mr. Greener has. He will be welcome anywhere, anytime, by those who know him.

Mr. Jacob Emerling, aged seventy-nine, of Akron, died last May 30th, at the residence of his daughter in Akron. He had made his home in Akron for the past fifty years and was for many years a trusted employee of the Werner Printing Company. He was educated at the Ohio school. The funeral was held at the home where he died.

It is very gratifying to read letters from former pupils and know they are making good out in the world. Many write that they own their own homes and are saving money. All this shows that the work at the schools for the deaf has not been in vain.

Columbus was proud to have as her guests June 25th to 26th, Colonel Charles Lindbergh and his bride. They arrived after a flight of 450 miles from New York. Colonel Lindbergh came to inspect the new airport that is to be opened July 8th, and pronounced it "second to none" in the country. The location was his own selection as the port for change from trains to air on the new line from coast to coast.

The Dayton deaf are to have two outings on their hands during the summer. The first is to be July 14th, at the Dayton fairgrounds under the auspices of N. F. S. D., No. 8, with Messrs. Munday and Hartley (two Henrys) in charge. The other scheduled for August 4th, at Forest Park. This is the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Western Ohio Association. Mrs. H. Hartley is secretary of this association.

The Youngstown Silent Club announces an outing for July 21st, at Mill Creek Park, to which everyone is invited rain or shine. This is styled a Fund Outing as the club members hope to help defray expenses incurred in legislation in the interest of the deaf in Ohio.

26th Biennial Convention of the American Instructors of the Deaf.

Faribault, Minn., June 17-21, 1929

Faribault, with its shady drives, numerous schools and academies situated in sylvan parks, its world-famed peonies, and its many nearby lakes, was the scene of the latest convention of the mentors of the deaf. Monday morning the Minnesota School for the Deaf grounds were groomed and ready to receive the 300 odd visitors, who arrived in a steady stream all day long. Delegates from nearly every State in the Union intermingled, old friends greeting each other and new friendships being formed. From the very first, there was evinced a marked spirit of tolerance and the desire for mutual co-operation between the oral and manual teachers. Another remarkable condition was the large number of deaf instructors, fully half of those who attended being deaf. The greatest consideration was shown to these deaf teachers, every lecture, every discussion and many of the demonstrations being interpreted. The large force of interpreters, who volunteered their services, did wonders and deserve the praise and thanks of all the deaf people in the audience. John Schwartz, of Minnesota, directed the interpreters, who substituted each other at fifteen and twenty minute intervals. Candace McPhail, of Winnipeg; Sallie M. Blaker, of California, and Messrs. A. Howdysell, Indiana; A. G. Norris, Indiana; L. Walker, South Carolina; W. Connor, New Mexico; E. Tillinghast, South Dakota; E. G. Peterson, Minnesota; A. L. Brown, Florida; M. Lee, Kentucky; A. Buchanan, Texas; C. Grow, Kentucky, and V. O. Skyberg, made every lecture as personal and interesting in signs, as the speakers themselves delivered them.

The week's program opened Monday evening in the beautiful auditorium of the Minnesota school. Supt. Frank M. Driggs, of Utah, president of the organization, called the meeting to order, and after an invocation, introduced the Hon. H. P. Bell, Mayor of Faribault, who warmly welcomed the delegates and formerly offered them the key to the city. In the absence of Governor Christianson, Superintendent Skyberg welcomed the delegates to the State of Minnesota. Responses were made by Dr. Harris Taylor, of New York, and Dr. Percival Hall, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Driggs, as president, then delivered his address on the "Progress in the Education of the Deaf." He reviewed in a few vivid pictures, the progress of teaching the deaf from the very beginning, 500 years ago, when the world first awoke to the fact that the deaf could be taught to speak and write, down to the present. In commenting on the trend toward oralism, he said that all the schools established in America prior to 1867 were sign-language schools, while the number of pupils now taught orally numbered 14,246, or 75% of those now in school. He also quoted statistics to illustrate the rapid increase in women teachers in our schools and the decline in the percentage of men.

In conclusion, he announced that he had asked a group of prominent educators what, in their opinion, were the outstanding forward steps in the education of the deaf in the past forty years, and what were the outstanding movements or tendencies in their education today. The following answers to the first quotation were compiled: (1) Recognition of the fact that the general principles of education apply in the instruction of the deaf as well as of the hearing; (2) Recognition of the necessity of trained teachers, and (3) the approach of the deaf towards normality. The three movements enumerated by this group in reply to his second question are: (1) Higher education for the deaf; (2) Recognition of the value of spoken and written English as the best medium of communication in the education of the deaf, and (3) Research work.

"There must be sincere concerted efforts toward the use of English in speech," said President Driggs. "Research must go forward. The cherished old must be cast aside for the wiser new—and we teachers of the deaf must qualify ourselves for this advancing program and become the inspiration for the progress of the inevitable."

That academic training should be subordinated to adequate industrial training in our schools for the deaf, was the keynote of Dr. Donald Patterson's lecture Tuesday morning. Dr. Patterson is the son of Dr. Robert Patterson, of Ohio, well known to all of us, and was associated with Dr. Pintner in an analytical study of the survey of the schools for the deaf, made some time ago by Mr. Fustfeld, of Gallaudet College, and Superintendent Day, of Missouri. He is a professor of psychology in the University of Minnesota. He said he was convinced that the majority of the deaf were limited in their ability to learn language and advocated teaching only those academic subjects that were necessary to equip the child for ordinary social and business intercourse. He pointed out that there should be greater classification of pupils in our schools for instructional purposes, so that the dull should not hold back the bright. In conclusion, he asked why it was that visual education such as is afforded by moving pictures is not used more in the education of the deaf.

Meals were served to the delegates in the sunny dining room of the Minnesota school. Every meal witnessed a congenial gathering of friends and newly made acquaintances around tables laden with excellent food stuffs.

Tom L. Anderson took the chair Tuesday afternoon at the session arranged by the Industrial Committee. Mr. H. B. Brown, of Philadelphia, who was in charge of this program, was not present, but the chairman read his introductory address, in which he advocated a survey of the industrial departments of our schools and of public schools for the sake of comparing methods to enable us to select the best. Then there were lectures by Oscar Sullivan, who described the Minnesota system of re-education and vocational placement, and by Miss Hazel Thompson, of Gallaudet College, chairman of the committee on vocational training for girls. She described a survey she had made among several schools and made numerous suggestions for new lines of activity that could be taken up by these schools to add interest to the girls' vocational training and to modernize the work. She said the deaf girl needed this training more than hearing girls, as they were deprived of the opportunity of learning at home. Other speakers were Dr. Frank Reiter, of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, and Miss Thelma Sprague, of Iowa.

Superintendent and Mrs. Victor Skyberg, of Minnesota, were hosts at a reception tendered the delegates in the superintendent's apartment. Refreshments were served and later the company moved to the auditorium, where dancing whiled away a few more hours.

Another psychologist from the University of Minnesota had the floor Wednesday morning. It was Dr. Anderson, well known in educational circles for his work in connection with the "nursery schools" of Minnesota, where children from 2 to 5 are trained. He laid stress on the great need for better training of our children in those plastic pre-school years.

Dr. J. L. Smith, who has been a member of the Association for a longer time than most people, gave a brief historical sketch of the convention Wednesday afternoon. This was followed by a talk by Supt. Herbert E. Day, of Missouri, in which he outlined the work of the National Research Council in its study of all matters relating to the deaf.

The Little Paper Family—like all good litters of puppies—had its day Wednesday evening. A supper tendered to the editors of all the school papers was well attended and could not but be a lively affair. With J. L. Smith as toastmaster, a blindfold test was held to pick the best school paper. Superintendent Blattner probably made the best choice when he picked his own paper, the Oklahoman, but no decision was handed down as no two choices were alike.

Dr. E. A. Gruver, Superintendent of the Mt. Airy School, was chosen president of the association for the next two years. Other officers were: vice-president, Thomas McAloney, of Colorado; secretary, Ignatius Bjorlee, of Maryland; and treasurer, J. S. Long, of Iowa. W. L. Walker, superintendent of the South Carolina School, and Charles R. Ely, of Washington, D. C., were re-elected directors, and to their names was added that of H. B. McManaway, superintendent of the Virginia School for the Deaf.

The following committees were nominated and accepted: Art section, Miss Hazel Thompson, Gallaudet College, chairman; Mrs. P. J. Kelly, of Missouri; Uriel Jones, of Mississippi; Dwight B. Reider, of New Jersey; Clayton McLaughlin, of New York. Kindergarten section, Mrs. Margaret C. Smith, of Colorado, chairman; Mrs. Anna Hurd, of Rhode Island, Miss Lulu Bruce, of Kentucky, and Miss Ota Blankenship, of Nebraska.

Normal section, H. B. McManaway, of Virginia, chairman; Mrs. Bess M. Riggs, of Arkansas, Dr. Percival Hall, of Gallaudet College, Madison Lee, of Kentucky, and D. T. Cloud, of Kansas. Auricular section, Leonard Elstadt, of New York, chairman; Marshall E. Hester, of Iowa, and Roy Nilson, of California.

Oral section, Miss Josephine Quinn, of Minnesota, chairman; Miss Clara Newlee, of Illinois; Miss Louise Berry, of Ohio, and Miss Lavilla Ward, of Wisconsin.

Industrial section, A. G. Norris, of Missouri, chairman; Dean E. Tomlinson, of Manitoba, P. N. Peterson, of Minnesota, R. Auman, of Virginia, and Nathan Zimble, of Arkansas.

Eastern local section committee, John F. Bledsoe, of Maryland, chairman; Alvin E. Pope, of New Jersey, and Dr. Harris Taylor, of New York; Southern section, Alfred Brown, of Florida, chairman; Wirt Scott, of Mississippi, and E. McK. Goodwin, of North Carolina; and the Western section, Wesley O. Connor, of New Mexico, chairman; H. J. Menzemer, of Montana, and Frank M. Driggs, of Utah.

A spirited round-table discussion on Equalization of the Status of Industrial Teachers with that of Academic Teachers, led by Nathan Zimble, of Arkansas, was, to many, the most interesting event of Thursday morning. Mrs. Driggs, Tom L. Anderson, A. G. Norris, Ariel C. Jones and Superintendent McManaway took an active part this discussion.

In the afternoon, Dr. Percival Hall, of Gallaudet College, spoke on the results of recent achievement tests given to Gallaudet students. It is the hope of the college faculty that the schools for the deaf will also adopt these tests as a measure of the fitness of candidates for admission to Gallaudet, as the entrance examinations are not always reliable guides in the selection of the best students.

The convention then adjourned to witness the peony festival, an annual even in Faribault. A parade of floats and bands presented a colorful and varied procession that the delegates enjoyed to the full. The floats, covered with peonies and other flowers, were so beautiful that the judges, selected from among the convention delegates, had a hard time naming the winners.

These judges were Mrs. O. M. Pittinger, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Amelia DeMotte, of Jacksonville, Ill.; J. Lyman Steed, of Salem, Oregon, and W. L. Walker, of Cedar Springs, S. C. In the evening a beautiful pageant, "Peony Frolic," was given on the campus at the State School for the Feeble Minded, which all the delegates witnessed and enjoyed, along with the thousands of visitors who traveled to Faribault to witness this peony festival.

The Alumni of Gallaudet College got together at a supper, Thursday evening. No college reunion can be as sincere and pleasant as this one was. Graduates of a period of over thirty years, who were old and experienced in the profession, intermingled with fledglings just out of college. President Hall, himself, presided and among the speakers were Louis C. Tuck, '70, and Dela Kittleson, '29, the oldest and youngest of the alumni.

Nor was the fraternal spirit overlooked. In the convocation of Kappa Gamma, the Gallaudet College fraternity, the spirit of bygone days, invoked by twenty-five members, again came to life as the solemn rites of the fraternity were again repeated in the sign language—the language of the fraternity.

A lecture of great interest and containing many a thoughtful idea was given Friday by Dr. Henrietta Race, of the University of Wisconsin on the subject of Mental Health. In the afternoon a spirited discussion on physical education, led by Wesley Lauritsen, of Minnesota, and Dr. J. S. Long, marked the closing of one of the best conventions in many years, according to many veteran teachers.

Among those who attended were nearly all the superintendents, except Superintendents Manning, of Alabama, Jones of Ohio, and Stevenson, of California, were present and lent prestige to the gathering. Many of those attending were recent additions to the association, among whom may be named James Flood, of Ohio, Della Kittleson, of Wisconsin, and David Mudgett, of Illinois. The old veterans were well represented in such experienced mentors as A. B. Greener, of Ohio, Dr. J. S. Lang, Louis Tuck and Edward P. Cleary, of Illinois.

Each day, throughout the convention, there were class-room demonstrations and exhibits of art and industrial work from many schools. These will be described in part next week by Edwin G. Peterson Mr. Peterson was one of several reporters covering the convention for the Faribault News. He is the son of Mr. P. N. Peterson, long a teacher in the Minnesota School and he himself is now teaching at Mt. Airy.

The resolutions read by Supt. O. M. Pittinger, of Indiana, and passed by the convention, summarize in a general way the attitude of those attending. The resolutions committee included C. J. Settle, of Oregon; Miss Josephine Quinn, of Minnesota; Mrs. Anna Hurd, of Rhode Island; W. B. McManaway, of Virginia; and Mr. Pittinger. After expressing the appreciation of the convention for the welcome accorded the delegates by Superintendent and Mrs. Skyberg and the city of Faribault, the resolutions urged extreme care on the part of deaf individuals who drive cars. The support and cooperation of the convention was pledged to the National Research Council. The convention also went on record as favoring schools for deaf teachers. Other resolutions emphasized the importance of industrial subjects in the schools for the deaf and urged the raising of the standards in our schools.

The meeting place of the next convention in 1931 has not been determined, but it is known that both Winnipeg, Canada, and Atlantic City, N. J., are under consideration.

DAVID MUDGETT.

Charles J. LeClercq sends a picture of his ascent of Mt. Lowe on the inclined car that carries one to the summit of that remarkable mountain. This is followed by a card from Catalina Island on which he poetically pens—

"Our strength, a rest to weary wing afford—
Thy beauty rare our wondering eyes reward."

THE MANHATTAN FRATS' ANNUAL OUTING AND GAMES.

On Saturday, June 29th, the Manhattan Division, No. 87, N. F. S. D., Outing and Games were scheduled to come off at Martin Hoffman's Park. The day was an ideal one.

Ye scribe was the second arrival at Hoffman's Park, with the exception of the arrangement committee, who of course were on hand before any one—to get everything ready.

At two-thirty only one cash customer. There wasn't a glint of smile on the committee's countenance!

By three o'clock they began to come—President Lubin, Mrs. Lubin, and the little Lubins, and from then on they continued to come, but not as expected.

All of a sudden it was revealed that it was June and not July—and that most of the deaf did not get half a holiday till July, but after five o'clock the crowd would surely come in.

However, the committee desired to pull off the games for the little ones, whom a goodly number had already appeared with their fond mammas.

Chairman Joseph Goldstein supervised the games.

Below is the list of the winners:

GIRLS

25 yards dash (6 to 9 years)—Won by Blanche Blumenthal, 9 years old.
50 yards dash (9 to 12 years)—Won by Eleanor Kammerer, 11 years old.

Potato Race (6 to 9 years)—Won Blanche Blumenthal, 9 years old.
Potato Race (5 to 7 years)—Won by Lillian Mulloy, 5 years old.
Potato Race (8 to 11 years)—Won by Shirley Plapinger, 11 years old.

BOYS

20 yards dash (3 to 6 years)—Won by Richard Sturtz, 5 years old.
50 yards dash (8 to 10 years)—Tied twice by Jack Paul and Martin Lovitch. After a rest of half hour, these two little tots ran for the third time, and Jack Paul won handsly this time.

Balloon Blowing contest—won by Bernard Lovitch.

The above races afforded great interest to the on-lookers, as the little ones gave their best efforts to win, and great pleasure to the parents of the winning ones.

During the afternoon and evening, the bowling alley was in constant use. There was a contest for $25 in prizes.

The winners were Ed. Bonvillian, $10; Mr. Lashman, $7; Mr. Lyman, $5; Mr. Hamra, $3.

In the evening there was a dancing contest. The winning couple, Michael Davinger and Miss Fannie Koch, received $3 each, and J. Stewart and Lucy Zeiger, $2 each.

The attendance was about four hundred, and the affair was a success socially and financially, which reflects credit on the arrangement committee.

Joseph Sturtz and M. O. Kremen found much pleasure tossing a baseball; wonder if they are getting ready to join Joe Mortiller's second Deaf-Mutes' Union League team.

The Arrangement Committee were Messrs. Joseph Goldstein (Chairman), Max Wisotsky, Jacob Friedman, Louis Goldwasser and Simon Teich.

The Manhattan Frats for the year 1929 is officered as follows: President, Max M. Lubin; Vice-President, Nathan Schwartz; Secretary, Abraham Baar; Treasurer, William B. Mellis; Director, Joseph Schultz; Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Oberbeck; Messenger, Abraham Heine.

Joe Barowick, resigned his position at the Grossinger Hotel, Fernsdales, N. Y., as he was called back to the city to fill a much better position. He returned on Thursday, June 27th, bronzed as an Indian, and his friends were glad to have him back, for he is a No. 1 sport.

On the 16th of June, Andrew B. Ash, father of Benjamin Ash, passed away. On June 11th, his father had an accident while riding his motorcycle with side car on the way home. A tire blowout was the cause. He was buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery three days later.

Mrs. Frances S. Glasser, with her little boy, Bobbie, accompanied her father and sister, Augusta, to Hawthorne, to attend the funeral of her uncle, Richard Englert, who died suddenly from prussic poisoning. He was cremated last week.

Mrs. Joseph Worzel (nee Miriam Robins) is spending two weeks in Lexington Manor, N. Y., and Joseph has to "bach" it for that length or time.

Ralph Bradford, of Indianapolis, who claims he has been a cripple by infantile paralysis, hiked in town. The other day, he called on our Mayor Walker at the City Hall, and was surprised that "Jimmy" is versed in the finger alphabet and gave him two dollars. He dropped in at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League on Sunday, June 23d.

The Clark Athletic Club boys seen lately look tanned at this early date. Cause—their camp has been opened to them some time, and they say that from now on week-ends will see large numbers there.

The wedding of Alfred King and Mrs. Fred Donus (nee Louise Daberkow) both of Jersey City, took place on Saturday evening, June 8th, with Rev. A. H. Guyn, formerly of the Trinity-Hedding M. E. Church, officiating.

A reception was held after the ceremony, among those present being Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Baumbin, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kaman, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McClay, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Epp, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McNickle, Mr. and Mrs. Ehnes, Mrs. E. Stein, Mrs. G. Kroll, Mrs. W. Grandjean, Mr. Andrew Poline, Mr. Chas. Casella, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bonanzi, Rev. A. H. Guyn, Mrs. L. Ellsworth, Miss C. Wuzenski, Miss May Lynch, Miss Anna McComb, Miss Frances Outwater, Mr. Chas. Donus, Miss Agnes King, Mr. Thos. Monti, Mr. George King, Miss Florence Kaman, Miss Ruth Bononzi, Master Raymond Bonanzi and others.

The couple will be at home to their friends at 143 Nelson Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. King attended the Trenton School for the Deaf. Mrs. King was widow of the late Frederick L. Donus, who was drowned at Jamaica, Long Island, four years ago. Mr. Donus was well-known among the deaf as an acrobat with his two other brothers. Mr. King has been employed at Colgate & Co., which is now Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., for twenty-two years.

Miss Ethel M. Brenneisen and Mr. Herbert H. Diekmann were married on Sunday, June 30th, at St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes, by Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock.

Over one hundred friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony, about two-thirds of them being deaf-mutes.

The bridesmaid, who preceded the bride down the aisle to the altar, was a pretty hearing girl. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride, clinging to the arm of her father, was gownned in white, with a long bridal veil trimmed with lace. The groom, who met the bride at the altar, was in full dress.

One of the ushers was Robert Fitting, but who the other was could not be learned. Neither could the name of the best man be obtained.

After receiving the congratulations of all, amid showers of rice the happy couple were whirled away in a big limousine.

Malcolm Campbell Anderson, who was a tutor at Fanwood in 1900-1901, has written to his friend, Edward P. Clarke, a former Fanwood teacher, for information regarding the Institution, his former fellow tutors, Miss Barrager and other teachers and pupils. He is anxious to see a copy of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. Mr. Anderson has been a letter carrier in Everett, Wash., for the past twenty years, is married and has two children.

Mrs. Edward Baum, whom the newspapers reported as drowned while swimming at Brighton Beach, is alive and well. As she did not land at the section of the beach where her friends were, it was thought she had sunk beneath the waves.

Mrs. W. S. Gibbs returned from Montclair, N. J., and expects to spend the remainder of summer with her sister at Cocksackie.

KANSAS

Mrs. Hilton, a graduate of the Missouri School for the Deaf, an employee at overall factory in Wichita several years, was adjudged insane and sent to the State Hospital for three months. After a month, she died. The deaf of Kansas and Missouri were shocked to learn of her death. Her remains were buried at Caney, Kan., where her husband was buried several years ago.

The deaf of Missouri came out to attend the funeral service. The daughters and sons and relatives have our deep sympathy in their sad bereavement.

On June 2d, there was a picnic for the deaf at Haven, Kan., on a farm, about forty miles northwest of Wichita. There were seventy deaf-mutes. They had plenty of amusements and refreshments. Most of them immediately went home, as a storm was threatening. Several were caught in the storm. Some of them could not get home on account of many fallen trees on the road until next morning. The storm destroyed many houses and garages. No lives were lost.

There was a picnic scheduled at Sim's Park on the May 30th, in the afternoon and evening, but none could go out an account of rain. So word was sent to every mute in Wichita to assemble at Stanley Dibble's home instead of Sim's Park.

Mrs. Moreland bravely came out to the latter's place, for she was anxious to have a good time. A baseball game was played when they found a bit of dry ground.

Mrs. Eva Davison and her daughter, Dora, who had been at some place in North Dakota, where they stayed with her folks all winter, came back to Wichita recently. They live with Mrs. E. Roach now. Both are working at the Peerless laundry.

Mrs. Smith, having been in Wichita under the doctor's care for several months, left for Kansas City, where her husband met her. After a while they went to Arkansas again, to live on a farm.

Mr. Manney, being laid-off for a while, is on his way to some points in Oklahoma on his motorcycle and will stay there for two weeks or so.

Mrs. Buchan, who has been conducting religious services on Sunday mornings and evenings the past year, will do the same for another year. She and several mutes are able to recite different hymns in graceful signs. Their work is progressing finely at the First M. E. Church in Wichita.

Mr. Wendt, wife and child, drove in their car to Enid, Okla., where he got a job at eight dollars a day. He is a union worker. They came to Wichita lately.

Mr. Mackahan, of Chicago, was married to Mrs. Ruthford some time ago. They live in Wichita at present, where Mr. Mackahan has a good position at the Swallow Air factory.

Mr. Weifnig, formerly employed at a smelter at Blackwell, Okla., worked at the Travel Air factory almost a year. He is a good worker.

J. S. Cox is helping his daughter and his sister on a farm, thirty-six miles south of Wichita.

Mr. Clements, of Joplin, Mo., was in Wichita again, visiting his sister and also friends.

There will be another picnic for deaf-mutes on the Fourth of July at Linwood Park, Wichita. Refreshments and lemonade and watermelons will be served. Every one in Kansas is welcome to Wichita on that day.

HUSTLER.

SYRACUSE

Mr. George D. Connor, who makes his home with a daughter, Mrs. Robert Whelan, of Garden City, L. I., recently spent several weeks in Syracuse, and is now at Erieville, N. Y., to spend a few months on a farm. He will return to Garden City in September.

Miss Helen Root, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Root, of Syracuse, was married on June 15th to Mr. Glenn McRae, of the same place. Rev. Robert Root, of Boston, Mass., brother of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McRae are for the present boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Root. Rev. Robert Root returned to Boston on the 15th, and is now in charge of a church at South Essex, Mass. He will take a six weeks' course in summer school at Boston Theological University and expects to win his Master's Degree in September.

The Frats of Syracuse and nearby places, will hold their annual picnic at Long Branch Amusement Park, on July 14th. A big crowd is expected.

The engagement is announced of Miss Beatrice Merrill, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Herbert C. Merrill, of Syracuse, to a young man of Rochester, N. Y.

The Ladies' Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church of Syracuse will hold its closing meeting for the summer, at the home of Mrs. Frank Lee, on June 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Freeman of Chicago, spent a week with Mr. Freeman's mother and brother's family at Fitchburg, Mass., the third week in June, and on the way home stopped in Syracuse for a few days to visit Mr. and Mrs. George C. Root. Mr. Freeman's aged mother, Mrs. Stephens, formerly of Illinois and Indiana, is now making her home with a son at Fitchburg, and has not been in the best of health.

Mr. George Root, who had three fingers of his right hand amputated last March 31st, as the result of an accident in a large wholesale bakery where he is employed, has just been awarded a tidy sum of money by the State Compensation Board. Mr. Root has returned to work, but the loss of his fingers is proving rather a handicap in the process of making bread by machinery. Mr. Root has a very comfortable home of his own in Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Houze, of Eastwood, a suburb of Syracuse, have purchased a very nice home and will either rent or sell their present small bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conley, of Collamar, near Syracuse, are visiting friends in Akron, O., as Robert has two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. John Sears returned on June 25th, from a two weeks' visit with her parents at Binghamton.

Mrs. James Lynch, of Liverpool N. Y., is recovering nicely from a serious operation she underwent in a Syracuse Hospital early in the spring.

Mr. Frank Lee, of Syracuse, had his brand new sport roadster damaged in an accident on the way home from a convention of the deaf at the Rome, N. Y., school on June 16. His wife suffered a bruised ankle and Mrs. Wassee, who was with them, suffered a severe cut on the forehead.

Mrs. Wassee recently moved to Syracuse from Utica and will make her home with her aged mother.

A large crowd from Syracuse attended the Alumni reunion of the Rome N. Y., school on June 16th, and report a grand time.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Trinity Church, Syracuse, on June 27th, at the home of Mrs. Frank Lee it was decided to hold a picnic on August 11th, at some private place to be decided upon later. Notice will be given in the near future.

Rev. Herbert C. Merrill has returned service at Trinity Church, Syracuse, on July 14th, at 10:30 A.M. This will probably close the service for the summer.

A linen shower will be given to Miss Beatrice Merrill on July 17th, by the Ladies' Guild, at the home of Mrs. Carl Ayling. Miss Merrill is to be married the later part of July.

Rev. Herbert C. Merrill has returned home after attending an ordination service in Detroit, when Mr. Horace Waters was received into the Episcopal ministry.

PHILADELPHIA

The following was reported in the Philadelphia Record on June 24th, 1929:—

Rev. Edward F. Kaercher, a deaf-mute, was installed yesterday as pastor of St. Phillip's Lutheran Church for the Deaf, Lehigh Avenue, west of Twelfth Street.

The congregation, with seventy-five members, has been served by Mr. Kaercher while a student at the Mt. Airy Lutheran Theological Seminary. Rev. J. J. Schindel, president of the Philadelphia Lutheran Conference, was the principal speaker. Rev. G. H. Bechtold, executive secretary of the Inner Mission Board of the Pennsylvania Ministerium, under whose auspices of the work among the deaf was organized, also spoke.

A number of deaf people attended the service of installation and Mr. Lloyd Berg acted as interpreter for them.

We have just learned through Mr. William H. Eakins, of Reading, Pa., of the death in February last of one of the oldest graduates of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf, Mr. George Washington Macatee, Mrs. Eakins and Mr. Macatee were classmates at school. The following is a brief account of Mr. Macatee's life.

Mr. George Washington Macatee was born in Clear Spring, Md., near Hagerstown, September 28th, 1847, and died at Rockford, Ill., February 19th, 1929, at the age of eighty-two years. He was educated at the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf at Broad and Pine Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., and then entered the Deaf-Mute College at Washington, D. C. He came to Polo, Ill., in 1876, and worked at the printing trade. On May 25th, 1882, he was married to Mary L. Miller, of Adeline, Ill., and lived at Forrestown, Ill., for one year, then moved on a farm where he lived until eight years ago, when he and his wife moved to Rockford, Ill., to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Clara Macatee Leffer. He is survived by the widow, two sons, one residing in California, and one at Aurora, Ill., and the daughter with whom he lived, and also leaves six grandchildren, two brothers and a sister. The interment was made at Wildwood Burial Park, at Rockford, Ill. We are indebted to Mrs. Clara Macatee Leffer, 943 North Avenue, Rockford, Ill., for the above record.

The local Frats' outing to Riverview Beach on the Delaware River (New Jersey side), a few miles below Wilmington, Del., came off yesterday, June 29th. The weather was fair and breezy all day and, as a result, the affair was both successful and enjoyable. It is believed that the attendance was over a hundred, but the exact figures are not yet known by the writer.

The local deaf will have the choice of one of two outings on the Fourth of July. One is the picnic at the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf at Torresdale, and the other the outing of the members and friends of the Clerc Literary Association at Grenloch Park, New Jersey. Two events like the above, coming on the same day, is unfortunate. In any event the writer, as one, prefers to be free to go where he pleases on the great national holiday, when there are always a host of attractions in most every locality. And no one likes to be bound to one place, when he has the opportunity to get more pleasure elsewhere on a national holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis I. Ash, of Phoenixville, Pa., attended the Frat excursion to Riverview Beach on Saturday, and then visited a relative in Philadelphia, returning home late in evening.

Miss Helen Parker, niece of Mrs. William L. Salter, spent a week's vacation at Ocean View, Del.

Mrs. Kate Hoopes has opened her Wildwood, N. J., cottage for the summer season.

Mr. Alexander P. McGhee, of 4930 N. Fairhill Street, Olney, represents this community in the "Yard and Garden," sponsored by Philadelphia Inquirer, in an effort to make Philadelphia the "Garden of the world" as well as the "City of Homes."

Mr. McGhee is an enthusiastic gardener and derives much pleasure from what he terms his "spare time hobby."

Detroit Frats Make a Record

On April 6th, at the meeting of the Detroit Division, No. 2, one of the energetic members, in the person of Arthur M. Hinch, brought in twenty-nine new members at one meeting, setting a new record for any division at one meeting, eclipsing the existing record of sixteen new members, set by the Indianapolis division.

Our Grand President, Francis P. Gibson, of Chicago, was the guest of the aforesaid meeting and he witnessed the spectacle. Need we say that he got a good surprise.

On the Sunday afternoon our grand big chief gave a talk entitled, "Things of Interest to the Deaf Today," at Hotel Statler, to a big gathering of happy and prosperous deaf. Needless to say that the hall was nearly overflowing. Mr. Gibson related about the events at the convention of the National Research Council in Washington, D. C., last February. The convention was attended by eminent doctors, professors, scientists and psychologists interested in the welfare of the deaf in general. The conclave met to discuss the best methods of teaching the deaf and devise methods of combatting the causes of deafness, etc.

We were interested to know their mission, also their opinions. Mr. Gibson was invited to the convention as the representative of the N. F. S. D., on the suggestion of Dr. J. S. Long, of the Iowa school. Dr. Hall, of Gallaudet College, and Dr. Cloud, one of the fine sons of our late friend, Rev. Dr. Cloud, of St. Louis, acted as interpreters alternatively, for Mr. Gibson, Dr. Long and Dr. Stevenson, of the California school.

Those in attendance at the conclave had a big surprise when Dr. Hall explained to them about the N. F. S. D., and also Mr. Gibson gave some details about the order.

In regard to the new members brought in to the Detroit Division, Mr. Hinch set the distinction of bringing the largest numbers. He alone endorsed twenty-nine at the meeting. He has been working diligently in bringing about the big detonation. He secured these all at the Detroit Association of the Deaf Club. There are many more prospects yet to hook up and they will all be members of the order before long we do not doubt that, for we know that Mr. Hinch will work real hard to realize his ambition.

The D. A. D. has been in existence since October, 1916, when it organized under the name of the Silent Athletic Club of Detroit, with twenty-six members. It was incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan and the name was changed to its present name. The club has grown steadily, until it has a membership roster of about three hundred prosperous young men. It is now located on the third floor at 8 East Jefferson, close to Woodward Avenue. It is ideally located for such congregations. Its sales records for the months of December, January, February and March, have eclipsed the previous records about 300 to 500 per cent.

The officers and members are going about in perfect harmony, and it is needless to elaborate the aims and purposes of the splendid club.

There are other clubs in the city and they all are doing pretty well socially and financially. The Frat Club is located on Vermont Avenue, near Michigan Avenue. The Detroit Association of the Catholic Deaf is located on Vernor Highway, near Scotten Avenue, and the Goodwill Club (colored deaf) at 978 Rowena Street.

The D. A. D. held a reception at the club assembly room in the evening after Mr. Gibson's talk at the Statler Hotel, in honor of Grand President Gibson. The club hall was filled beyond capacity. Impromptu talks were given. Mr. Hinch engineered the big event.

Mr. Gibson was tendered another big surprise, when the D. A. D., through Mr. Hinch, presented Mr. Gibson a Honorary Life Membership in the D. A. D., also a package which proved to be a box of good perfumes, as a token of esteem and good-will. Mr. Gibson departed on the midnight rattler back to his duties in the Chicago office, with elated spirits over the Detroit prospects, while his wife, who came along with him, remained in the city with her friends.

Just watch our smoke at the next meeting of the division. Mr. Hinch has another big surprise coming. There is no telling as to how many more new members he has under his sleeve.

Mr. Hinch (but shall we call him Mr. Cinch—to quote Mr. Gibson) is striving his damndest to shatter his previous record, and we all sincerely and earnestly hope that our "Frat Ace" may realize his fondest dream.

Church Built From One Tree

In Santa Rosa, California, there is a Baptist church, which will seat 400 people, built entirely from timber sawn from one redwood tree. Everything used in the construction of this church was furnished by this one tree, with the exception of the necessary glass and hardware. The spire is 100 feet high, and there is a pastor's study 12 by 20 feet, as well as a vestibule, toilet room and parlor seating 100 people. This church is 60 feet wide by 100 feet long, and cost $5,000.

Only two-thirds of the tree was needed for the necessary lumber. After the roof was finished it was found that there were 60,000 shingles left over.

A sister tree to the one from which this church was constructed furnished employment for many months to two men in reducing it to shingles.

THE POPULATION IN QUEENS BOROUGH IS OVER

according to estimate by Queensboro Chamber of Commerce, January, 1929, is a million reasons why you should buy IMPROVED lots in the fastest growing borough of Greater New York, where improvements are already installed, where transportation already exists—and above all, where many people are NOW living. Plans for five forty-family apartment houses have been filed and which adjoins the property. A word to the wise is sufficient.

ANDREW CARNEGIE has said—
Ninety per cent. of all millionaires become so through owning real estate. More money has been made in real estate than in all industrial investments combined. The wise young man or woman of today should invest his money in real estate.
Lots as low as $940 each on easy payments. All titles insured free.

Out-of-town people welcome to write for interesting information how you, too, can participate with safety.
